Before The Presentation

Give your audience the information they need ahead of time to prime their expectations and give them the chance to learn more.
Worksheets

Always refer to it at the start to let people know when it is going to be used. This will stop them constantly reading it during your talk to see if they should be using it.

Thought Starters

Provide your audience with ideas you would like them to consider before they hear your talk.

Send Out A Poll Or Quiz

This can give you information to share during your presentation and will help your audience feel like they are a part of the discussion.

After The Presentation

Send Supporting Materials

Give your audience more information afterward to solidify your expertise.

Link To Relevant Content

People attended to learn. Help them continue to research more.

Provide Review Sheets

If possible, people will appreciate a recap of your talk that highlights the main points.
